About 'Green School'

Introduction:

The Green School Project was organized by the Interact club of SOS Hermann Gmeiner School Bharatpur with the objective of promoting environmental awareness and encouraging sustainable practices among students. As part of this initiative, a tree plantation program was organized within the school premises. The project aimed to develop a sense of responsibility towards the environment among students and inspire them to contribute towards creating a greener and healthier future.

Project Summary:

The Green School Project was conducted on 12th July at SOS Hermann Gmeiner School Bharatpur. Around 20-25 students, along with teachers and Interact Club Members, actively participated in the plantation program. Various saplings were planted around the school premises. The project was coordinated
