About 'Inter-District Artwork Exchange'

Introduction

The Interact Club of Kathmandu (RID 3292 Nepal & Bhutan) collaborated with the Interact Club of Badi-Ud-Din Mahmud Girls' College, Kandy (RID 3220 Sri Lanka & Maldives) to host an Inter-District Artwork Exchange. This initiative created an open space for young artists across borders to share their creative traditions and deepen their mutual understanding. By exchanging hand-drawn artworks highlighting unique cultural celebrations, both clubs built a strong international bridge rooted in youth leadership and artistic expression.

Summary

The initiative began with both clubs coordinating to exchange meaningful pieces of art created by their members, representing the cultural identity and traditions of their respective home countries.

Itr. Bimala Dulal (Parul) President (2026-27) Representing Nepal, Itr. Manasi Gyawali from the Interact Club of Kathmandu created a pencil sketch illustrating the festival of Dashain. Her piece portrayed a traditional elder applying Tika and Jamara to a young girl, complete with flying kites in the background, capturing the familial warmth of the celebration.

Through this exchange, members from both districts gained an appreciation for each other's national festivals and artistic styles, celebrating how art connects communities across international borders.

The project strengthened international relations between the Interact District 3292 and District 3220 through genuine cultural sharing. It gave young Interactors a meaningful platform to showcase their talent while promoting cultural appreciation, mutual respect, and global friendship.
